

Edith Andre

October 12, 1943 - January 5, 2025

Edith Andre was born on October 12, 1943, in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. She was the cherished and unique child of her late mother, Marianne Adelson, and the third child of her late father, Gustave Andre.

In 2005, Edith immigrated to the United States, joining her only living daughter, Maggy Alcidas; her son-in-law, Yves Gerard Alcidas; her granddaughter, Tahithia Jordan; her goddaughter, Raymonde Solange, affectionately known as Tinini; and her late grandson, Marcus Kaman Brown.

A seamstress by trade and an international businesswoman during her time in Haiti, Edith's determination and work ethic led her to continue working after her move to the U.S. She dedicated over 10 years of service to Goodwill as a passionate and skilled sewer.

Edith was a woman of unwavering faith who found joy in prayer, singing, and giving glory to God. Her kind and giving spirit shone through in her acts of service to her community, leaving a lasting impression on everyone she encountered.

She was a talented cook who had a deep love for culinary arts and a flair for fashion. Edith enjoyed listening to music, dancing, telling stories, and making others laugh with her quick wit and charisma. Her compassion, generosity, and warmth extended to all, even to strangers.

On Sunday, January 5, 2025, Edith Andre passed away, leaving behind a legacy of strength and resilience.

She is survived by her beloved daughter, Maggy Alcidas; her son-in-law, Yves Gerard Alcidas; her granddaughter, Tahithia Jordan; her grandson-in-law, Ka'Ron Kenneth Jordan Sr.; her great-grandsons, Ka'Ron Kenneth Jordan Jr. and Karter Kenneth Jordan; her goddaughter, Raymonde Solange, as well as her siblings, nieces, nephews, cousins, and a host of extended family members and friends.

Edith's life was a testament to love, resilience, and kindness. Her impact will continue to resonate through the lives of those she touched. Her family and friends will forever cherish her memory.

Rest in peace, Edith. You will be dearly missed but never forgotten.

A seamstress by trade and an international businesswoman during her time in Haiti, Edith's determination and work ethic led her to continue working after her move to the U.S. She dedicated over 30 years of service to Goodwill as a passionate and skilled seamstress.

Edith was a woman of unassuming faith who found joy in prayer, singing, and giving glory to God. Her steadfast and giving spirit shone through in her acts of service to her community, leaving a lasting impression on everyone she encountered.

She was a talented artist who had a deep love for colorful arts and a flair for fashion. Edith enjoyed listening to music, dancing, reading stories, and making others laugh with her quick wit and charm. Her compassion, generosity, and warmth extended to all whom she met.

On Sunday, January 5, 2025, Edith made her peaceful exit, leaving behind a legacy of strength and resilience.

She is survived by her beloved daughter, Maggie Edith, her son-in-law, their four children, her grandchildren, and her friends.

You are the party, the heart of the room,
Your presence could chase away the gloom,
Close to earth, yet soaring high,
She taught us how to truly fly.

Her love was boundless, her spirit true,
She cherished her friends and family
In every way, in every sense,
She made each moment feel worthwhile.

Though she's gone, her light remains,
A joyful memory, through love's embrace,
Edith, a life so bright,
Now shines in eternal light.

Edith Edith

The family gratefully acknowledges with sincere gratitude our many friends for the outpouring of love and support during this time of loss.
