embodying the values of hard work and commitment in all areas of her life. Whether caring for her family, helping a friend, or contributing to her community, Enid's generosity touched many lives.

She also found joy in dancing—an expression of her vibrant personality and love for music and togetherness. Her graceful moves and warm laughter often lit up gatherings, creating memories that will be cherished forever.

She was preceded in death by her oldest son, Nelly Samir. Enid is survived by her children, Shirley Adams, Jeffrey Aguilera, and Wendy Aguilera; her grandchildren, Isiah Adams, Estee Adams, Isiah Aguilera, Eliak Aguilera, and Tye Adams; her 10 siblings; and many aunts and nephews.

Enid's life was one of compassion, resilience, and dedication. Though she is no longer with us in person, her spirit will continue Enid's love was a living melody, grace that filled and blessed the world around her. She lived to dance and celebrate life's simple pleasures.

Though she is no longer with us, her spirit and the lessons she shared pass on to her children, grandchildren, siblings, and all who knew her.
