December 25, 1944 - May 2, 2022

Biography:

Gerda Noiseau was born on December 25th, 1944 to the parents of Philibert St. Hilaire and Clara Noiseau. In her early years she met a family friend whom at the time she did not know would become her soul mate.

Their love story:

At an early age, Gerda met a family friend whom years later became her best friend, partner in life, husband, and father to her 2 daughters, his name is Serge Saul Dejean. In her early 20's, Gerda left Haiti and travelled to the United States (Brooklyn, New York) for a better life. Serge missed Gerda so much that he set sail to the Bahamas to be closer to the love of his life. After two months of living in the Bahamas, 2 beautiful butterflies circled Serge and he felt that Gerda sent them to deliver the message that she had returned to Haiti from the United States. Determined to be with the love of his life, Serge returned to Haiti, proposed to Gerda and they were married on July 25th, 1967. Soon after getting married, Gerda returned to the United States and Serge joined her the following year.

“ Good morning family. My name is Sharon Dejean, better know as Shasha to most.
Sandra and Jeannie are more than cousins to me my sister Emmy and brother Lionel Jr, they are our sisters. Daddy Saul is a second father to us. What can I say about our second mom Gerda? She was the life of the party. Always welcoming you with a smile. Always ready to help with good advice and the truth whether you wanted to hear it or not.
Even with us living in NJ and them living in NY, we still saw each other quite often. We spent summers and holidays together.
Distance could not keep us apart.
We moved to Fort Lauderdale and they moved to Miami shortly after. Distance could not keep us apart.
When my mom Emma, known affectionately as Mama, passed away in 2015, we grew even closer. Distance could not keep us apart.
So now it's seems fitting that our moms, Mama and Gerda are together again. I'm sure our mom has welcomed your mom with open arms.
Distance could never keep them apart. Forever loving and missing you mommy and mommy Gerda. I hope we continue to make you both proud .
