

Jean Wills LaJeune

January 10, 1959 - August 14, 2023

The life of Jean Wills Lajeune began on January 10, 1959. He was born to Anne Marie Melina Moise and Denis Lajeune, he was later adopted by the Bruce Lee family in 1974.

From the young age of eight years old Wills showed great interest in martial arts. His talent was a bright light and became a pivotal part of his life. His efficiency in the sport was only accelerated by his work ethic. He gave Martial Arts his everything and was rewarded with being chosen as a sparring partner to the Karate King in Manhattan, New York. That opportunity started him on his journey towards becoming an instructor.

Wills career would advance into the Karate World Federation to become an international judge. In 1977, in Los Angeles, Wills joined the U.S. Army and served for 23 years. He served on both domestic and international bases. During his military career Wills was afforded the opportunity to train the Special Forces in hand-to-hand combat units for the Army and Marine Corps (Camp Lejeune).

Wills dedicated his life to discipline and helping others. He found a home within the military and made his mark within the martial arts community. Wills will be remembered as an honest, caring, and hardworking human being who changed the world with one high kick at a time.

Jean Wills Lajeune's journey ended on August 14, 2023. Wills is survived by his brother Hans Moise who stood by him from the beginning and will continue to keep his memory alive.
