

Marie Carole Alexis

June 30, 1948 - April 19, 2024

Marie Carole...Carole to all that loved her was born on June 30, 1948, a balmy Wednesday to the lovely Carmen Dolce and dashing Clavicule Declasse in Cap Haitian. She had that spark of wonderful grace from the womb and upon the greeting the world anew.

Growing up, the towns of Dondon, St. Raphaël and Grande-Rivière-du-Nord were the storied heart towns for her and her kin. Mami Carole weaved from her memories a whimsical childhood of powdered dirt walks to primaire, joyful forays into in small town theatre and chorus, and the all encompassing but always loving interplays of brothers, and sisters, and cousins, and aunts, and uncles, and friends. She endured the unique challenges of her youth in Haiti with a such delicate grace that if you'd blink you would be lesser for it.

Carole best served the impressionable youth of Dondon as professor primaire at Madame Victor Moliere. She flourished in the art of ambiance at the Ecole Hoteliere de Turgeau. These institutions fostered connection and creativity that encouraged her gentle spirit. She carried this cache of Creole dignity and insight to New York and Boston in the late 60s and 70s. Miami in the 80s 'til present was a whirlwind of experiences that Carole weathered like no other. Her spark of grace would not be dimmed. And we loved her for it ...and always will.

April 19, Friday night, your spirit and soul were called Home. Heaven needed more starlight to light its path.

Marie Carole Alexis is survived by an everloving family: daughter, Julie; sons: Garcy Patrick and Carr Ralph; God daughter, Linsou; grandchildren: Hahsson, Brandon, Kimbria, Ryan, Jalen, Kaanan, Matthew Elijah, Phoenix , Harmony, Andrew, Keaven; nieces and nephews: Jennifer, Stephan, Obed, and Lune, Riri, and a prolific, new generation Mami Carole's Dolce cousins side of the family has merged with the Millord, the Jovin, the Nérée, and of course, the Declasse. To friends that span decades in struggle and joy ...thank-you
