

Marie Nola Jean-Philippe Gilbert

September 27, 1961 - March 16, 2023

Marie Nola Jean Philippe Gilbert was born on September 27, 1961 to Maurice Gilbert and Estela Charlotin in Jeremie, Haiti.

While living in Haiti, Marie Nola obtained a Certificate of Completion in Culinary School and a Bachelors in Business Accounting. She managed a bar/cafeateria at Centre de Formation Classique (CFC) school while also working as an accountant at Social Affairs. She also was an event planner and organizer providing catering services. Baking cakes was a venue for sharing her passion and expressing her love in form of sweetness. Her baking was always a highlight at any family gathering, and private events, and she was more than happy to share her recipes and baking tips with anyone who asked. She had a real talent for making food that not only tasted incredible but looked beautiful too. But her legacy goes far beyond her baked goods. She was a mother figure to many, offering guidance, support, and love to those who needed it most. She had a heart of service and was always eager to help in any way she could, whether that meant lending an ear to listen, providing a shoulder to cry on, or offering practical assistance, wisdom, and knowledge during life stressors.

Later in life, Marie Nola met Jacques Jean Philippe and eventually got married on October 27, 1987, in Port-Au-Prince, Haiti. In this Union, three children were born. Marie Nola then moved to the United States with her two sons in 2010 in hopes of a better life. When she arrived to the US. She knew her calling was people. So she decided to pursue a career in home health care and become a home health aide taking care of adults with disabilities. Despite her many responsibilities, she was a remarkable woman. She always made time for others. She was incredibly welcoming to strangers and had a gift for making everyone feel at home. Her warm, gentle nature and soft, sweet-tempered manner made her a beloved figure. Her passing has left a void in our lives that will be difficult to fill, but we take comfort in the knowledge that she has made a positive impact on so many people, including those who were lucky enough to have called her a family member or friend. As we come together to celebrate Nola's life, let us remember the kind, loving, and generous person she was. Let us honor her legacy by striving to be more like her—compassionate, selfless, and unwaveringly committed to every promise spoken.

Marie Nola is predeceased by her child Stephane Jean Philippe and survived by her children Edouard and Christopher Jean Philippe, her brother and six (6) sisters, her twenty (20) nieces and nephews, her eleven (11) great nieces and nephews, her brothers and sisters in law, her cousins, the Gilbert, Jean Philippe, Jean-Baptiste, Marcelin, Jacob, Lindor, Dorvil, and Bastien Family and all her beloved friends.
