

Marie-Rose Mezidor

May 11, 1942 - October 29, 2024

Nous qui serons restés en vie, nous serons tous ensemble enlevés avec eux sur des nuées, à la rencontre du Seigneur dans les airs, et ainsi nous serons toujours avec le Seigneur. C'est pourquoi consolez-vous les uns les autres par ces paroles. - 1 Thessaloniens 4:17-18

Marie-Rose Mezidor, a devoted mother, cherished friend, and steadfast woman of faith, peacefully passed away on October 29, 2024, at the age of 82. Born on May 11, 1942, to Lola Mezidor and Jean Joseph Louis Charles, Marie-Rose was a woman of exceptional resilience, independence, and boundless care for those she loved.

Marie-Rose's life was a testament to her strong will, deep values, and unwavering commitment to her family. Raised in a deeply rooted Catholic household, she held onto her faith as her guiding light throughout her journey. Her legacy includes the remarkable upbringing of her three beloved children, whom she raised with a devotion to Catholic principles, instilling in them the importance of faith, integrity, and kindness. Marie-Rose dedicated her life to providing for her children, ensuring they were not only cared for but also grounded in faith and love.

Marie-Rose was an ambitious entrepreneur who carved her own path in the world of business. She built her enterprise from the ground up, navigating the challenges of entrepreneurship with a tenacity that inspired all who knew her. Her success in business was a reflection of her hard work, persistence, and keen sense of independence. Through her career, Marie-Rose became a role model for many in her community, particularly other women who aspired to make their own way in the world.

Her interests reflected her vibrant and multifaceted personality. Marie-Rose had a profound interest in politics, often engaging in spirited conversations and debates with friends and family. She was a talented cook who found joy in creating delicious meals that brought people together, and her kitchen was a place of warmth, laughter, and family. A faithful attendee of her church, she was a woman of deep spiritual commitment and shared her beliefs with others as a core part of her life.

Marie-Rose was known for her wonderful sense of humor and storytelling abilities, often sharing captivating stories that would bring smiles to those around her. Her caring nature made her a beloved figure in her community, and she was always quick to lend a helping hand to those in need. Her strength, perseverance, and warmth touched everyone who had the privilege of knowing her, and her legacy will live on in the hearts of those she loved.

She leaves behind her three children, who are a testament to her life's work and her unwavering commitment as a mother, along with a close-knit extended family and many friends who cherished her dearly.

Marie-Rose Mezidor will be deeply missed, but her memory will remain a source of inspiration and love for generations to come.
