

Vony Odigé Francoeur

October 10, 1967 - December 8, 2023

Vony Odigé Francoeur was born on October 10, 1967, in Port-Au-Prince, Haiti. In the early morning of December 8, 2023, Vony Francoeur passed away after a long battle with an illness. She was 56 years old.”

Vony graduated from Edison High School in 1987. She later attended Lindsey Hopkins Technical in 1994 to obtain her Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) license, then Dade Medical College in 2014 where she earned her Registered Nurse (RN) license.

In 1988, Vony had her first daughter Melina, in 1992, her first son Dominick came after, two years later in 1994 Vony had another son Christopher and she had her last girl Camisha in 1996. Vony was once married to Camille Francoeur then she later divorced.

Vony was a hard-working woman. She liked nice things, especially jewelry, she would spend hours watching HSN and QVC to order something new. Vony was not only generous with herself, but also with others, she loved to give gifts to her loved ones even giving money to the less fortunate.

Vony favorite color is off-white or crème, her favorite foods were coconut shrimp, crab, herring, and legume which she would eat with her famous vegetable white rice. Vony would not eat at any restaurant, she was very particular about the way food should be cooked and prepared. If she did go to a restaurant, she wouldn't hesitate to request plastic utensils and plateware. Vony was such a funny person, loved making jokes, and enjoyed making others comfortable in the process. She was also extremely stubborn and independent, she wanted to do everything on her own and never wanted anyone to pity her even when she began to show signs of her illness. Her smile was bright and warm and it would shine bright in the darkest of rooms. Vony was full of love and life never smoked or even sipped alcohol because she loved being in control of her life. She loved taking pictures and smiling with her loved ones, and because of this, we have physical memories of her and how she loved those around her.
